District defers funding decision on superfast broadband roll-out

SOUTH Somerset District Council (SSDC) has deferred a decision on whether or not it should spend £640,000 on a superfast broadband programme.

Councillors on the District Executive requested more information on the scheme when they met on June 4th, and a special meeting of the committee by Anders Larsson anders@tindlenews.co.uk will be called to make a final decision.

The District Executive met to review the in-principle commitment, made in June last year, to commit £640,000 to the Connecting Devon and Somerset (CDS) Superfast (broadband) Extension Programme (SEP). The programme takes advantage of various UK and European funding streams, and involves a number of organisations and agencies, including the government-funded Broadband Delivery UK (BDUK).

A report said: "In the past three years, much of South Somerset has benefitted from the roll-out of superfast broadband. By the end of 2015, 90 per cent of premises in South Somerset will be able to gain access to superfast broadband as a result of the initial Superfast Broadband programme.

"CDS, the programme organisers, now aim to increase the availability of superfast broadband to 95 per cent of South Somerset premises under the Superfast Extension Programme."

But potential problems have now materialised with councillors expressing concerns over broadband connections for local businesses.

Incorporating The

The report from last week's meeting explained: "Members had expressed concern that business premises were not specifically being targeted for connection under the SEP, but it remains the case that although businesses will be included in the programme, the target will include residential premises.

"SSDC have asked for the postcode breakdown of premises expected to be connected through the SEP. We have been told this is not possible to share if we were supplied, because of commercial confidentialities.

"We noted that several complaints from small businesses have been generated, not because of the unavailability of local superfast broadband, but because of the cost of that final connection between premises and the junction box.

"In many cases it is the cost of the final connection to the premises (that the customer must bear) that is the inhibiting factor."

District Executive members were also informed that "it is not possible to get competitive like-for-like quotes in the prevailing circumstances".

A SSDC spokesperson said: "The decision was deferred until more information relating to the bid is available to members. "We expect this information to be available in the coming weeks and a special District Executive will be called to discuss the report again."

SIDMOUTH

EDA's bid to suspend district council HO move is quashed

EAST Devon District Council will press ahead with the sale of its headquarters in Sidmouth, after a bid to stall the controversial relocation project was dramatically shut down.

A last-ditch attempt by opposition councillors to suspend the sale of Knowle failed to win members' support at a crucial meeting last week, following a series of angry exchanges.

Arguments were heard for and against delaying the project but councillors voted overwhelmingly to continue as planned with the move.

Councillors from the independent East Devon Alliance group - the main opposition to the Conservatives at EDDC – called for the sale of Knowle to be put on hold for six months so further consideration could be given to the move.

But the proposal was later voted down, clearing the path for the project to continue as planned. EDDC is now poised to switch to new offices in Honiton and Exmouth, with work scheduled to begin next August.

I soon came to realised that football stopped being "a beautiful game" many years ago. Money was - and is - the God and the least important people in the game are the supporters.

No one connected with the game at grass roots level were a bit surprised when FIFA imploded with the news that several top officials had been arrested by the FBI after a wide-ranging investigation into corruption at the very top.

The sums involved are obscene – but much

Heights plans

Whilst headlines about the obnoxious head of FIFA Sepp Blater were breaking all over the world, down at the new Chard Road football ground in Axminster chairman Ray Self and his team were putting the finishing touches to their new ground in readiness for next season.

This is where the true game is at its best. In Crewkerne, they've worked their socks off for new facilities in recent times and in Ilminster the same it about to happen.

Football lives in its truest fashion at local level where securing funding of relatively small sums to allow young people to play in a secure and en-joyable environment is often an exercise akin to hari-kari.

Axminster got their ground by doing an astute bit of business with a property developer, although it was a lot more complicated and stressful than anticipated. A fraction of the bungs and bribes dished out to and by the so-called leaders of our game could make such a difference.

But who wants their tainted millions?

Flood threat to new homes? Town Council's plan-

MORE than 140 new homes planned for the edge of Honiton could be blighted by flooding and damp problems. town councillors have warned.

Developers have submitted new plans for a large housing estate off Sidmouth Road - only a year after planning chiefs threw out their previous proposals.

Outraged residents have already moved to criticise the application, which sets out plans for 141 homes to be built on land at Heathfield, to the east of Hayne Lane.

And town councillors have also expressed "serious concerns'' that new residents could be at risk of flooding and dampness in their homes if the plans are approved. Members of Honiton district councillors will have the final say. A decision is expected on August 12th.

POLICE have launched their annual summer campaign about the dangers and consequences of drink and drug driving.

Operation Tonic, the police's month-long forcewide annual summer campaign to make the roads safer for all, has begun - and as officers did over Christmas and the New Year, they will be will be naming publicly every motorist who is charged with a drink or drug driving offence.

For the first time traffic officers will be using "drugalyser" devices at the roadside to test drivers for suspected drugs, including cannabis and cocaine, using new laws that came in earlier this year.

Drug drivers could face an unlimited fine, up to six months in prison, a minimum one-year driving ban and a criminal record. Your driving licence will also show you've been convicted for drug driving. This will last for 11 years.

For more information go to www.gov.uk/drug-driving-law

Road Safety Superintendent Richard Corrigan said: "We are determined to do whatever we can to stop people driving while under the influence of drink or drugs. If just one collision or death is prevented, then our campaign will be a success.

"For the first time in our Christmas 2014 campaign we decided to name those charged. The results showed that this measure acted as a clear deterrent to people taking a chance on driving while under the influence.

"This summer we also have extra powers and the tools to check for illegal drugs at the roadside. The message is clearer than ever - there is no excuse and we will arrest any drivers who are suspected to be driving while under the influence of drink or drugs."

message is clearer than ever—there is no excuse and we will arrest any drivers who are suspected to be driving while under the influence of drink or drugs."

Police and Crime Commissioner Sue Mountstevens added: "Over the summer, many of us will be having fun, hosting gatherings and socialising with family and friends. Driving under the influence of drink or drugs is not only a crime, it is socially and morally unacceptable and can have devastating consequences.

"The police are committed to keeping the roads of Avon and Somerset safe for all that use them. I believe the majority of law-abiding people support the police in doing all we can to bring offenders to justice, keeping the roads safe not only this summer, but all year round."

Can you see to drive?

National Glaucoma Awareness Week, 8-14 June 2015

This year's National Glaucoma Awareness Week will take place on the 8 - 14 June 2015. The focus will be on driving and encouraging people to have regular eye health checks to ensure that they are safe to drive. It is only with regular eye health checks through a local optometrist (optician), that people will know if their driving vision is affected. This is particularly important with glaucoma, as it has no symptoms in the early stages. But, with early detection and continued treatment people will often retain useful sight for life and be safe to drive for many years.

Driving and our ability and safety to do so, is something that many people take for granted. Yet, how many people have a regular eye health check to ensure that their vision is accurate? Even if a person can see a number plate at 20 metres, how many have been tested for glaucoma which affects vision?

There is an estimated 600,000 people with glaucoma in the UK, but 300,000 are undiagnosed. As there are no early symptoms it is vital that people over the age of 40 have regular eye health checks every one or two years. Advanced glaucoma leads to serious loss of sight.

Comments Russell Young, CEO of the International Glaucoma Association "the majority of us wouldn't take our cars on the road without an annual service and MOT yet, we are happy to put ourselves behind the wheel without knowing if we can see safely to drive. A visit to the optometrist will quickly check our safety and detect if there is any risk of glaucoma. Glaucoma is a complex condition, in that the brain fills in what the eyes cannot see. Many people will insist their vision is perfectly normal even when there is significant loss of vision".

"Around 10 per cent of the calls we receive to our helpline are from people worried about whether their glaucoma is going to affect their ability to drive. Yet the majority of those that report to the DVLA will not need further tests, and of those that do most will be found safe to drive", Young continues.

Glaucoma causes misty, patchy or blurred vision in places. It can cause people to miss the unexpected such as a person crossing the road, a cyclist passing, or a vehicle merging into traffic. The only way to know for sure about your vision and your safety on the roads is to have regular eye health checks every one to two years, particularly if you are over the age of 40.

"It is important people know if they do have glaucoma that has caused damage to vision in both eyes, they are required by law to report their condition to the DVLA. If they fail to do so they can face a criminal conviction, a fine up to £1000 and may be uninsured to drive. The good news about glaucoma is with ongoing treatment people can protect their vision and most people will retain useful sight for life", Young concludes.

Further information about glaucoma and driving can be found on the IGA website, www.glaucoma-association.com or via the Sightline (helpline) on 01233 64 81 70.

Restorative justice scheme to be expanded thanks to funding boost

MORE victims of crime will have a chance to meet offenders and have their say thanks to a £153,000 investment by Somerset's Police and Crime Commissioner Sue Mountstevens.

Restorative justice is a process which allows victims and offenders to meet, talk about how an experience affected each of them and agree how the wrong could be put right. It's a process which can have a positive impact on all involved; 85 per cent victims leave feeling satisfied and offenders are 14 per cent less likely to reoffend.

The Police and Crime Commissioner's investment is being used to make restorative justice more widely available to victims across Avon and Somerset. It will create a new service in the Bath, North-East and South Gloucestershire and build on existing services in Bristol, Somerset and North Somerset with availability increasing by up to 75 per cent.

Speaking about the new services, Mrs Mountstevens said: "A priority of mine since day one has been to put victims at the heart of the criminal justice system. Restorative justice is vital to my approach; it gives victims a greater voice and allows them to meet the person who harmed them and tell them how it made them feel. It also puts them in the control by allowing them to have a say in how amends are made - it could be writing a letter of apology, repairing damage or doing community

"It can have a positive and powerful impact on victims and offenders and I'm very pleased we'll be making this more widely available to local commu-

Restorative justice has a growing reputation for the positive impact it can have for victims. For example, last year in Bristol restorative justice had a 98 per cent satisfaction rate amongst victims with the team being nominated for both regional and national in Bristol last month who stated that the process had a place in the city and highlighted how through the process the victim had his questions answered and was able to forgive his offender.

The expansion of restorative justice will be overseen by restorative justice development manager Helen Rosenthal. Speaking about the new services, she said:

"Restorative justice can empower victims and give them a more positive outlook on a bad experience. It's not suitable in every circumstance and it's only possible when all parties agree. "I'd encourage any victim who thinks it might be for them to speak to the person handling their case and they'll be able to talk you through it.

As well as the new restorative justice services, the following specific new roles have also been created to help develop restorative justice:

- A new facilitator has been appointed for one year to work with prisons across Avon and Somerset to expand the use of restorative justice after an offender has been sentenced. Previously focused on burglary and robbery offences, this will have a renewed focus on victims and be opened to victims of a wider vari-
- Restorative Justice Coordinators have been appointed to work alongside the Lighthouse Victim and Witness Care teams. The coordinators will champion the use of restorative justice, liaising with the new providers and making sure it is carried out to a high standard

Funding to help expand restorative justice was announced by the Ministry of Justice in November 2013 and at that time PCC Sue Mountstevens welcomed the move. The money being invested has come from funds provided by the Ministry of Justice and which has been recovered from offenders through the victim surcharge offenders can be orADVERTISER'S ANNOUNCEMENT

Local mum celebrates weight loss

FORTY is the new 30 according to local mum Samantha Toogood, who is celebrating having dropped from a size 18 to a size 10 and now feels 10 years younger.

Samantha had always struggled with her weight from her late twenties when she fought depression following a bad car accident whilst back packing around Australia. Having to cut short her trip of a lifetime and fly home to convalesce and being unable to work due to her injuries, Samantha was found to be suffering with post traumatic stress disorder and fought her way through it, being comforted along the way by food and drink which made the pounds pile on. She has struggled with her weight ever since.

This left Samantha feeling old before her time and really knocked her self confidence. Instead of enjoying clothes shopping and a sin-

Axcess Electric Bikes

Axcess Electric Bikes are Riding High

AXCESS-ELECTRIC-BIKES will show a complete range of their Axcess brand electric bikes which have so successful since their launch in 2012. Their popularity has grown with the size of the electric bike market which in the UK is still 90% smaller than the market in Germany.

The increasing number of cycle tracks plus the ever increasing difficulty with parking is encouraging increased use for both business and pleasure as more and more people want to keep active and enjoy the fresh air. Peter Blackman, Axcess's MD, commented "It is amazing where our electric bikes have been. We get reports that our bikes have been taken to Fuerteventura, Scottish Islands, Europe, and one even went to Australia and back - in a box - not ridden."

New from Germany on show are a range of Raleigh electric bikes powered by Bosch motors mounted between the pedals. Two models both available as crossbar and step-through frames will be on show.

Folding electric bikes remain very popular with those who want to take them out into the countryside and the go for a ride in a rural area or on a cycle track. Look out for the special offer folding bike on the Axcess stand.

Arada Stoves

Putting warmth at the heart of the home

WE didn't become the UK's No.1 manufacturer of stoves overnight. It's been 30 years since we started warming homes and hearts. But from day one, our stoves have had the authenticity you'd expect from a company rooted in rural Devon.

We believe our reputation is built on every stove we make. Villager, Aarrow and Stratford stoves have all stood the test of time and are now united under the Arada name. Each and every Arada stove starts life in the hands of our craftsmen in our purpose built factory on the Millwey Industrial Estate.

Our focus remains entirely on British values, maintaining a strong united workforce and ensuring our ethos remains invested.

our focus remains entirely on British values, maintaining a strong united workforce and ensuring our ethos remains invested in UK manufacturing, as well as our local community.

With an extensive stove portfolio, our state of the art factory and machinery allows us to manufacture our range of stoves on site from start to finish. Our stoves start life as raw steel and are hand finished to perfection- from cutting and welding to spraying and packing by our highly-skilled and well-trained workforce. Our team ensure our stoves bear all the hallmarks of being designed and built in Britain by people who take pride in a job well done.

With our large scale production comes our investment, with as many of our raw materials as possible being sourced from the UK. Furthermore, we strive to create relationships with other local companies, with many of them just on our doorstep. Through this, and our willingness to get involved in the local community, our role as manufacturers in Axminster, Devon allows us to give back to the place that we call home.

District council thanks volunteers

SOUTH Somerset District Council thanked all those residents who volunteer or are part of friends groups with council services as part of National Volunteers' Week (June 1st-7th).

Volunteers in South Somerset help to maintain the wonderful award winning countryside sites across the district, ensure artefacts at the Com-munity Heritage Access Centre (CHAC) are kept in a good condition and also help patrons to their seats at Yeovil's Octagon Theatre.

Katy Menday, Countryside Manager at SSDC, said: "Each week hundreds of hours are donated by practical volunteers to help us manage sites, improve them for nature conservation, protect the heritage and make them suitable and safe to access for the visiting public.

"Volunteers are integral to the way we operate, and they enable us to deliver a huge range of events from community bonfires to Halloween trails.

"We also have two fabulous friends groups at the country parks that fundraise and support the site ranger teams across a great array of projects, working tirelessly, often behind the scenes, to ensure that the green spaces are supported and protected.

"Individual volunteers also bring a whole wealth and experience and expertise with them".

Clare Robinson, CHAC co-ordinator, said: "Volunteers are integral to the excellent care of the historic collection at the Community Heritage Access Centre.

"Many of the 28,000 records we hold just has basic information on an item, e.g. 'dress' for a dress. No colour, size or what it is made of or its condition.

"Our volunteers help to update the information on the old records but are also cataloguing recent donations to CHAC to excellent standards.

"By doing this, it enables staff to have time to complete projects like the WWI booklet issued to 22,000 school children."

Adam Burgan, Arts & Entertainment Manager, added: "Our fantastic Foyer Club donates around 14,000 hours every year to the Octagon Theatre and without them we simply wouldn't be able to operate.

"There are very few theatres where patrons are still shown to their seats or given the warm, personal greeting our Foyer Club offer.

"From taking tickets, raising money to support the theatre, selling ice creams during the interval to helping us stuff 20,000 brochures three times a year – our Foyer Club's passion, dedication and love of the theatre is something very special. The Octagon just wouldn't be the same without them."

Councillor Sylvia Seal, Portfolio Holder for Leisure & Culture, whose services benefit a lot from the hard work of volunteers, said: "We are indebted to the hard work of volunteers across the different council services and we would just like to say a big thank you for all your time and effort that you put into what you do.

"Without you, many of our country park sites would not look as wonderful as they do, nor would we be able to put on as many shows as we do at the Octagon Theatre for example. Thank you very much for all that you do."

www.viewfromonline.co.uk CHARD Tuesday, June 9th 2015 25

CHARD, Ilminster and District University of the Third Age has just celebrated its 20th anniversary.

Ninety members gathered at Chard Guildhall to enjoy some homegrown entertainment.

This included two poems by Jean MacRow-Hill and Jackie Bridge, a 1950s radio spoof entitled 'The Perils of Gwendolyn' written by Chris Watkis and performed by Marion Field and Chris & Jean Watkis, followed by a quiz by Chris about old radio and TV theme tunes.

A very special lunch, prepared by Pam Parry, Jenny Grabham and Pernelle Rowe and served by committee members was enjoyed by all and bouquets were presented to four founder members – Janet Brown, Norma Evans, Beth Toman and Eve Glover, who at 96 is the oldest member and very kindly agreed to cut a celebration cake.

The U3A is open to anyone who has retired from full-time employment.

There is a monthly meeting and 56 groups to join, covering many subjects, such as languages, circle dancing, scrabble, digital photography, rambling, etc.

If you would like more information, please contact Margaret Martin on 01460 64800.

New Inn at Kilmington

Telephone 01297 33376 The Hill, Kilmington, Axminster EX13 7SF

MANDY and Carey Chant have been the licensees of the New Inn Kilmington since December last year. They have really put their own stamp on the place after giving the pub a makeover during the winter months.

The couple made the decision to leave the Axminster Inn when seeing their dream village pub become available. They have thoroughly enjoyed the change of pace, fitting well into village life and providing a meeting place for the locals and visitors.

A staple menu of pub favourites is available; dishes are freshly cooked to order by Mandy, from locally sourced and homegrown produce. The lunchtime menu is served between midday and 3pm every day and the evening menu served between 6pm - 9pm Monday to Saturday and from 7pm- 9pm on Sundays. New Inn Sunday roasts are extremely popular, so bookings are always advisable.

The appeal of the pub this time of year is also the large beer garden with far reaching views of the Axe Valley.

Mandy and Carey offer catering for all functions and families and dogs are welcome in the pub, their three friendly, little dogs have proved to be a bit of an attraction themselves!

Popular, takeaway fish and chip dinner is provided Monday to Wednesday and monthly charity quiz nights have been well attended. The New Inn has darts, skittles, crib and boules teams, new members and spectators are always made to feel welcome.

Mandy and Carey look forward to your visit.

THE New Inn is now stocking Apple Bee, the first all Dorset cider produced exclusively for Palmers by new cider company, Dorset Orchards.

The feedback is that customers love the fresh, vibrant flavours and Apple Bee's Dorset provenance makes it an instant hit with visitors and locals alike.

Apple Bee has been crafted for Dorset Orchards by Sheppy's Cider using cider apples sourced locally from orchards in Dorset. Apple Bee is replacing Thatchers Old Rascal in Palmers Pubs.

East Devon set to benefit from boom in 'staycation' breaks

HOLIDAYMAKERS are set to visit East Devon in their thousands this summer, as the area prepares for an unprecedented tourism boom Industry experts believe local businesses will benefit from a significant increase in so-called 'stay-cationers' over the next few months. Analysts say more and more people are choosing to spend their holidays closer to home, with forecasts of a sizzling summer ahead According to holidayletting agency holidaycottages.

co.uk, a drop in petrol prices is also contributing to the trend, which will see a 16 per cent increase in the number of people booking a self-catering holiday cottage in East Devon.

The boom is expected to reach the area this month. as seaside traders gear up for another busy summer season.

James Morris, managing director at holiday cottages.co.uk, said: "East Devon has so much to offer and we are proud to play a part in promoting it to our holidaymakers from the UK and further afield."

He added: "The upwards trend in bookings can be attributed to a number of factors. With the warmer temperatures we've experienced in the last few years and predictions of the warmest summer yet, we expect more people to flock to East Devon instead of spending their well-earned holiday time queuing at airports.

"Another factor is the decrease in petrol prices." meaning it is now more affordable to travel in your car.'

Car fire extinguished

A CAR caught fire between Lopen and South Petherton in the afternoon of Sunday, May 31st.

The location was given as Watergore, and the alarm was raised just before 4.40pm.

The cause of the fire was not given, but a spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said: "We received numerous calls reporting a vehicle on fire between Lopen and South Petherton roundabouts

"A local appliance was mobilised to the incident.

"Once in attendance, crews found the vehicle well alight and got to work using two breathing apparatus, foam and an environmental pack to extinguish the fire.

Volunteers needed to tackle alien weeds

VOLUNTEERS are sought by project leaders for a renewed assault on Himalayan balsam in Axe Valley.

Axe Invasives non-native invasive plant project is funded by Natural England and is in its fourth year.
Project co-ordinator Louise Woolley said: "We will be organising clearance sessions on weekdays and at the weekend and will be picking people up from Seaton, Colyford, Colyton and Axminster as well as organising other pick up stops if people do not have their own transport. 'The project is also clearing Japanese knotweed and giant hogweed from the valley, so if there are sites that people know of can they please let us

'The project is appealing to everyone, whether they are eight or 80, to find some time to tackle the ever increasing problem of the spread of Himalayan Balsam in Axe Valley and surrounding streams in June, July and August 2015.

"The project takes people into the beautiful countryside of the valley where wildlife is still abundant and explores places not usually accessible to the public.

The work is not heavy and requires no tools, just gloves and wellies and is a fun way to maintain fitness and meet new people.

"The days run from 10am to 3.30pm and can also be a fun way for students or those looking for work to get some volunteer experience for their CV whilst knowing that they are making a difference by Anders Larsson anders@tindlenews.co.uk local environment'

She also explained that the project has achieved an 80 per cent improvement year on year and has nearly eliminated Himalayan balsam from many areas.

But those involved need to ensure that the focus is maintained on clearing the upper reaches and need more manpower upstream to stop the plant recolonising those areas cleared previously.

Louise added: "The most effective way is pulling the plants up by hand which is easily done as they have very shallow roots and is necessary to get to those places that a mechanical cutter can't reach."

The main issues with the colonisation of Himalayan balsam are that it causes:

- Our native plants to be out-competed and therefore decreasing biodiversity, affecting ecosystems by creating an imbalance in wildlife and the habitats they depend on for breeding and food
- An increase in flooding due to siltation and gravel build up caused by bank erosion
- A reduction in suitable fish spawning grounds
- Loss of pasture, hay meadows and agricultural land. For further information email Louise at axeinvasives@outlook.com or call 01395 512536 or 07905 418460 or connect on twitter and facebook

www.viewfromonline.co.uk NATIONAL MICROCHIPPING MONTH Tuesday, June 9th 2015 29

What is microchipping?

The microchip is the size of a grain of rice and the procedure, which is carried out by a vet or takes only a few minutes and lasts a lifetime.

How does a microchip help to reunite a lost pet with their owner?

Once your pet is microchipped, you and your pet's details are stored in a microchip database along with the microchip's unique 15 digit code.

When a missing pet is found, an animal professional (for example a vet or dog warden) will scan the pet revealing the microchip's unique 15 trained microchip implanter, digit code, and contact the microchip database your pet is registered with. The customer care staff will perform some security checks before releasing your contact details to the animal professional - so that your pet can be reunited with you.

Keep Your Details Up To Date

If your pet is already Microchipped please make sure that you keep your contact details up to date, otherwise it may be impossible to reunite you with a missing pet. To check your pet's details are up to date or to change any details, visit www.petlog.org.uk

JUNE is National Microchipping Month; a campaign to encourage responsible ownership through microchipping as a method of permanent pet identification. Almost any species of animal can be microchipped including dogs, cats, rabbits, guinea pigs, ferrets, tortoises and even birds.

Every year in the UK thousands of pets go missing and, according to a report from Dogs Trust, 110,000 stray dogs were handled by local authorities last year.

Vale Veterinary Centre

Microchipping Dogs Law Comes Into Effect In April

VETS implant microchips that are registered on an authorised database (PetLog) so you can rest assured that you will meet the requirements of the new legislation which will make Microchipping of dogs compulsory in England from 6th April 2016. This legislation will require dog

- · Have their dog microchipped and registered
- Keep their contact details up-to-date on the microchip databases.
- Register the details of any new owner before they sell or give the dog away

Microchipping has many benefits, the most important of which is reuniting stray pets with their owners; but it also encourages responsible ownership, helps tackle puppy farming and facilitates reporting of hereditary health problems

Minster Veterinary Surgery

MINSTER Veterinary Surgery is a longestablished, independent and exclusively small animal practice. The partners, Joyce Fleming and Ross O'Brien have been qualified 23 and 19 years respectively.

The up-to-date equipment facilitates non-invasive diagnoses, with wet chemistry blood analysing machines, high-frequency X-rays, Doppler diagnostic ultrasound & blood pressure monitoring equipment. Advanced pulse oximitry & capnography are routinely used during anaesthesia.

Isolation facilities are also available for exotic & infectious cases.

The experienced and qualified nurses perform dental clinics, weight clinics and puppy checks and this is often a good time to discuss any concerns a client may have. These services are free of charge.

There is always one of our veterinary surgeons and one of our veterinary nurses on call at all times so any advice or action needed, night or day, can be given in an emergency.

We believe that we treat every patient as we would like our own to be treated, with tenderness and understanding. We deal with all problems, big and small, and each is as important as the next. Ultimately, we care for your pet almost as much as you

EVALE veterinary group

Keeping our pets cool this summer

- On a hot day, walk your dog in the early morning and late evenings if possible, either take water with you or walk where there is somewhere for the dog to paddle or swim. You can by dog coats specifically for keeping them cool too!
- · Cats notoriously love the heat, but make sure you check sheds and green houses for those sunbathing moggies because they can get locked in by accident.
- Rabbits and guinea pigs need plenty of shade and water, keep them covered when they are out in their run and preferably in the shade with opportunity for a breeze

NEVER leave Dogs in cars, not even for short

Dogs die every summer after being left in cars, even with the windows down. In minutes, the inside of the car can reach oven temperatures. Outside temperatures of 24 degrees centigrade can soon reach in excess of 39 degrees centi-

What to do if you see a dog in a car on a warm/hot day?

Call the police on 999 and the RSPCA on 03001234999. If the car is in a shop car park or at a public event, alert organisers to call owners over the loudspeaker and advise them that the police have been called and are on their way. The overwhelming urge will be to break into the car and release the dog. There is a risk of being charged with criminal damage if you do this, so tell the police/RSPCA what you intend to do and take videos/photos on your phone to show the distress. Take names and phone numbers of any witnesses.

Signs of heatstroke and what to do

- · Heavy panting, profuse salivation, a rapid pulse, very red gums and or tongue, lethargy, lack of co-ordination, reluctance or inability to rise after collapsing, vomiting and diarrhoea.
- Dogs with heatstroke need their body temperature lowering gradually to give them the best chance of survival.
- Immediately douse the dog with cool (never cold) water if possible.
- Move the dog into a shaded cool area and give small amounts of cool water to drink
- Go straight to your nearest veterinary practice and call ahead so that they are expecting you.

Nathan turns to fellow gambler Sky Masterson for the dough but Sky ends up chasing the straight-laced missionary doll Sarah Guys and Dolls Jr. takes us from the heart of Times Square to the cafes of Havanna, Cuba and even into the sewers of New York City but eventually everyone ends up right where they belong.

Historic Colyton prepares for a right-rebellious time

COLYTON rebels are preparing for a momentous occasion on Saturday, 13th June, when scenes from the 1685 Monmouth Rebellion are re-enacted in the town.

The Taunton Garrison's famous Living History Camp will be set within St Andrew's Church grounds. Authentic period detail of life in camp can be experienced by visitors. Looking resplendent in King's Militia costumes, they will march through the town, round-up rebels for sentencing, and perform various military drills. They will also instruct children in pike drill and flag flourishing. Children can enjoy a hands-on experience of flag making at the Enna Wood Camp on Church Green.

During the day, Rebels and horsemen will re-enact the march when many Colyton men went to join the ill-fated Duke of Monmouth's army. The King's Militia will seek out and capture Rebels, followed by further drama when Judge Jeffreys arrives in town. The day will draw to a close with a costumed drumhead service in St Andrew's Church at 4.00pm.

A country market, Rebel Camp, wandering minstrels, and various attractions, will all make this an enjoyable day out for the family. Munchkins Miniature Shetland Rescue, a newly registered charity, will have 2 ponies based at Colyton Tramway Station from 10.30am-4.30pm. Visitors will be able to meet the ponies at this time, and learn how they are res-

Gardens open in Kilmington for National Garden Scheme

ONCE again four gardens in Kilmington are happy to be supporting the wonderful work of the NGS who is one of the most significant charitable funders of nursing and caring in the UK.

The National Garden Scheme was founded in 1927 by the Queen's Nursing Institute to raise funds to support district nurses and in 1980 an independent charity was formed, the National Garden Scheme Charitable Trust which has continued ever since.

The gardens opening (mostly in Shute Road): are The Acorn, Breach (off Shute Road), Spinney Two and Lambley Brook, (Springhead Lane and near to Breach).

The all important 'tea and cake' aspect to garden visiting, provided by and with proceeds going to the St. Giles' Church can be enjoyed in relaxed surroundings at The Acorn where The Jurassic Coasters will be playing. Some disabled parking is available at The Acorn.

So, please come along and support us – we look forward to seeing you in the gardens, Saturday, June 13th or Sunday, June 14th (or both!) between 1.30 and 5.00pm. Tickets (available at the gardens) are £5, combined admission – children free, dogs welcome on short leads, plants for sale.

For more details visit www.ngs.org.uk (enter 'Kilmington' under garden name).

Farce on delivery from Axminster Drama Club

ERIC has a big secret to hide. Unfortunately, his wife, Linda, thinks he's hiding a very different secret. When once we practice to deceive...

It's a classic set up for an outrageously riotous farce which is the only way to describe Cash On Delivery. With a plot that twists and turns in ever spiraling contortions, a cast of colourful characters create a kaleidoscope of confusion. Misunderstandings and mistaken identities abound along with indecent behaviour, cross-dressing, men without trousers and people being knocked out by inanimate objects. Every ingredient of farce is here, including a few extra ones thrown into the recipe for good measure, including an out-of-control washing machine.

Written by Michael Cooney, son of that master of the art, Ray – and the apple clearly didn't fall far from the tree – this play is being performed by a talented cast from Axminster

Drama Club at The Guildhall on Thursday 18th, Friday 19th and Saturday, June 20th at 7.30pm. Tickets (£8 in advance, £10 on the door) are available from The Archway Bookshop in Church Street, Axminster or by telephoning 01404 831089.

BMW's compact Sports Activity Vehicle, the all new X1

MORE than 730,000 were sold globally of that first generation with nearly 40,000 new owners of X1 in the UK over the same period. Now an all-new BMW X1 has been unveiled and features dynamic BMW X styling, a sporting character blended with outstanding efficiency, and an array of innovative equipment features in comfort, safety and infotainment.

Featuring an all-new range of engines and gearboxes, not to mention the latest, ultra-efficient version of the xDrive all-wheel-drive system, the second generation of the BMW X1 exemplifies BMW's EfficientDynamics philosophy. At market launch, one petrol engine and three diesel options are offered.

Design: Commanding presence, robust proportions and dynamic lines

Robust proportions, sculpted surfaces and genre-specific design features clearly mark the X1 out as a member of the BMW X model family. The front is defined by the large, upright BMW kidney grille, three-section lower air intake and characteristic "four-eyed" look formed by the twin circular head lights and fog lamps. Standard specification for the new BMW X1 includes LED daytime driving lights and for xLine and M Sport models full-LED headlights for low and high beam. This is optional for Sport line models.

The new car has grown most notably in height compared to its predecessor (+53mm), which helps to create extra space in the interior. When viewed from the side, the window surfaces taper towards the rear creating a particularly dynamic impression. At the rear, the central section of the rear apron rises up significantly, mimicking the frontal styling. Customers can choose from two non-metallic and 11 metallic exterior paint finishes for their new BMW X1, while the Estoril Blue metallic shade is also offered exclusively for the M Sport model.

The versatility typical of this new BMW X model is expressed not only in the driving characteristics of the X1 on various types of terrain and the sporting exterior looks, but also in the way its interior can be used, with more space for passengers and luggage.

tax disc last October, the IAM fear many people are still confused or unaware of the implications of the scrapping of the paper counterpart today.

The counterpart was introduced alongside the photo card driving licence in 1998 to include details such as any endorsements and which category of vehicles you are entitled to drive. However this information will now be stored electronically and any updates will not be shown on any written documentation you will have. These details can only be obtained via the DVLA driver record system, and be checked online (reference 1) or in writing by post.

As of 8 June the paper counterpart, or an oldstyle paper driving licence cannot be relied upon to carry correct or-up-to-date information about endorsements or categories of vehicle someone car

The counterpart will carry no legal status, and the DVLA recommends you destroy it after 8 June.

What is also changing is the procedure if you have to surrender your driving licence to a court in the event of an endorsement. The court will take your photocard and if you include the paper counterpart with your submission, the photocard will be returned to you but the counterpart will not

Gayle joins club legends as Kieswetter retires

Spurway knock gives Ilminster boost - Whorlow ton can't save Perrott

LOCAL CRICKET NEWS Durham v Somerset

(Chester-le-Street, 7-10June) Durham 1st innings 189 (C.Overton 4-40, T.Groenewald -37) Somerset 1st inns 225 (J.Myburgh 61) Durham 2nd inns 98 for 5.

SOMERSET enjoyed the best of Sunday's opening day up at the Riverside with seamers Craig Overton and Tim Groenewald leading the way as the hosts, after winning the toss, were shot out for 189 in the 50th

Somerset lost openers Marcus Trescothick (26) and Tom Abell and were 34 for 2 before recovering to 147 for 4 at stumps

The ball held sway in the first session of day two with the Cidermen taking a 36-run lead in the second innings as they were dismissed for 225 with Johan Myburgh (61) making the first half-century of the match.

NAT-WEST T20 Somerset v Hampshire (Friday, June 5th)

SOMERSET returned to winning ways in their T20 campaign with a comfortable win over Hampshire at a sun-kissed County shire at a sa... ground on Friday. Again the match, watched by a sell-out 6,500, was dominated by the extraordinary big-hitting talent of Chris The Jamaican clubbed eight huge sixes on his way to an unbeaten 85 off iust 49 balls as The Ciderman passed the vistors' below-par 167 for 3 with nine balls remaining. Not to be forgotten was an equally impressive 51 off 34 from Pete . Trego in his benefit season.

Afterwards Gayle said on the SCCC website: "It was a great win for us and to finish on top was fantastic, and to be among the runs again was even better I just want to carry on from this game into next week's game with Surrey.

"I will have a few days break now while the other guvs play a four day game against Durham and have a few ciders and wait for them to come back "For Somerset this was my second best innings. The first one (92 against Essex) was the best but this was the second best and hopefully there is one more left in the bag for me be-fore I go home." "Our bowlers did well to keep them down to 167 on this wicket which was fantastic. I thought about 180 was par with these boundaries but we chased it Talking about his time here

Chris said: "They are a great bunch of lads in the dressing room and as you say I am delighted to be here. It's been a busy schedule for me here but I am enjoying it every minute of After scores of 92, 151no and 85no the popular West Indian now averages 328 in this season's competition having smashed 29 sixes and 22 fours from only 170 balls faced.

Kieswetter forced to call it a day

THE match also saw Craig Kieswetter make an emotional appearance in the middle to say goodbye to the supporters after being forced to return from the game due to an eye injury.

The 27-year-old wicket keeper who came into the side in 2006 when current Ilminster skipper Sam Spurway was ina ball from Northamptonshire's left arm pace bowler David Willey back in July 2014.

Kieswetter returned for the last two matches of the season, makina 69 on his return.

However, during his time playing T20 cricket in South Africa during the winter he realised that he hadn't recovered sufficiently to enable him to regain his best form which has forced him to make his decision.

He leaves behind an impressive record for both club and country with a Man-of-the-Match performance for England in the 2010 T20 World Cup final triumph against Australia in

Maynard said on the club websité: "This is sad news for all concerned. Craig is a very popular member of the squad and has made a real impression on the Club during his years here. "He has been a major influence both on and off the field and will be missed by players, coaches, staff and fans alike.

"At his best Craig was one of, if not the most explosive 'keeper–batsman' in the game. He is an extremely gifted cricketer who could win a game on "His record speaks for itself and the game will miss him. would have loved to have worked with him this year but it just wasn't to be."The DOC added: "Whilst the loss of Craig is a major blow we must not forget that we have two young and very talented 'keepers' at the Club in Alex Barrow and James Regan, whilst Marcus Trescoth-ick is more than capable with the gloves as he has proved in this year's NatWest T20 Blast.

Playing record

Somerset; 115 First class matches (5,728 runs at 39.23, 331 cat, 12 st), 134 List A (4,254 runs at 39.38, 136 cat, 26 st) 124 Twenty20 (3,367 at 31.76, 76

England; 46 ODIs (1,054 runs at 30.11, SR 89.93, 53 cat, 12 st) 25 T20 (526 runs at 21.91, SR 111.91, 17 cat, 3st).

ILMINSTER 1st XI banked a 20point haul from their trip to Downend to move level on points with fellow struggler Clevedon at the foot of the Premier Division table.

Home skipper Matt Jackson won the toss and asked the bat first and the decision looked to be a good one as in-form LouisKraucamp (4) and Jonny Warry (4) both fell early

But a top score 69 from Captain Sam Spurway allied to fine knocks from Josh Lee (58) and number 10 James Thompson (39) saw Ilminster post a challenging 241 as they were bowled out in the 49th over.

Record breakers! Otters hit 75

OTTERS made a strong statement of intent when they notched up a record 75 goals against newcomers Swagger Mamas.
The 75–44 win saw them move back into second place behind Uplowman. Otters grabbed the lead in the third quarter, and with Kirsty Trude playing well, notched up 21 goals in the final period.

Ainsley Joney had a good game for the Mamas.

It was that rare event in a handicap league with both teams starting on the same score, but this was the case when Tip Top Trees met Sidmouth Toucan's Old Birds.

The game started evenly but by the end of the third period 3Ts had opened a 48–37 lead which they extended to win by 57-44 thanks once again to fine work from Jess Jeffrey. Sarah Burston had a good

WITH four games due to be played in Pool B only two took place due to the vagaries of British Summer weather - it poured with rain and blew a gale!

Sidmouth Toucans Chicks are showing their counterparts in Pool A how it's done as they maintained their unbeaten run to go back to the top of the table thanks to a very convincing 61–26 win over JD

CHARD ROAD RUNNERS with Paul Masters

CRR's headed off to two events last weekend, travelling to Dartmoor on Saturday and staying local with the Crewkerne 10k on Sunday Three CRRs ventured off into the Wilds of Dartmoor for the aptly named DARTMOOR DISCOV-ERY ULTRA MARATHON.

Heading off out first along the hilly lanes was Bernie Genge adding to his growing achievements for the year in this 32-mile hilly road ultra marathon. Keeping a consistent pace Bernie secured a very credible 54th out of the 194 runners against a strong European field of runners.

Next to parade the CRR's flag was Chris Wadey who, taking on the increasing heat of the day. put in a stern performance

Meanwhile,

Wadey who taking on her 2second ultra marathon in as many weeks came in a very credible 164/194.

Second race of the Weekend was off to The CREWKERNE which as round 10 of the Somerset Series was full of top runners. This road 10k sees runners heading out of Crewkerne along the lanes towards Merriott.

Leading the way for CRR's was Wayne Wayne CRR's Loveridge who set off to challenge for the front of the pack and maintained good progress against such a strong field crossing the line in a class-leading 4/177.

Following in Wayne's footsteps was Martin Holley who having hot footed it from the School was not quite as prepared for the heat and strong field but still managed a 3rd in Cat finish providing CRR's with a small but strong finish at this local event.

AXE CLIFF with Rob Grove USUALLY a medal round holds fear and trepidation for most of the competitors but when it is the first round of four to count there seems to be more determination than ever to complete a score. The first round of the Senior Masters tournament which attracted a large number of participants proved to be a close affair but, with other scores to count, any one of the remaining competitors could yet lift this prestigious trophy.

As it was some of the more consistent golfers came out on top this week with Peter Knighting (15) scoring a commendable net 69.

He was closely followed by the reliable Tony Strong (7) with 70 and the evergreen Keith Wilson (13) also with

In very windy conditions there were some seemingly high scores but this competition brings out the best from those stubborn Senior golfers from Axe Cliff and their best is yet to come. Leaders beware.

There were four 2s recorded during the round by Roger Hill, Simon Wellington, Nick Stanton and Tony
